

Cookie Policy

A cookie is a file containing an identifier (a string of letters and numbers) that is sent by a web server to a web browser, and stored by the browser. The identifier is then sent back to the server each time the browser requests a page from the server. This enables the web server to identify and track the web browser.

We use Session cookies, Persistent cookies and Third Party cookies on this website.

Session Cookies

We use Session cookies to keep track of how you navigate the website and increase security. Session cookies will be deleted from your computer when you close your browser.

Persistent Cookies

We use Persistent cookies to help keep track of your preferences in relation to the use of our website. Persistent cookies will remain stored on your computer until deleted, or until they reach a specified expiry date.

Third Party Cookies

We use Google Analytics to evaluate your use of the website (anonymously) and compile reports for us on the activity. We then analyse this information for guidance on how to improve our website. Google's privacy policy is available at: <https://policies.google.com/privacy>.

Most web browsers allow you to reject all cookies, whilst some allow you to reject just third party cookies. If you wish to restrict or block the cookies which are set by this website, or indeed any other website, you can do this through your browser settings. The Help function within your browser should tell you how.

Alternatively, you may wish to visit www.aboutcookies.org which contains comprehensive information on how to do this on a wide variety of browsers. You will also find details on how to delete cookies from your computer as well as more general information about cookies. For information on how to do this on the browser of your mobile phone you will need to refer to your handset manual.

Please be aware that restricting cookies may impact on the functionality of this website.
